*Circuit Launch is generously donating a limited quantity to health care institutions, thanks in part to Coca Cola Corporation, which has donated the plastic materials.

The product shipped to you may differ somewhat from photos and samples you have seen. For example the thickness may vary. Some shields may have a thin protective film added to prevent scratches, which must be peeled off by the user; others may not. If variations like these are a concern, you may request a sample from the manufacturer or order a small quantity first to make sure their specific product meets your needs.
